CSA CELEBRITY SPEAKERS

Helen Skelton is a television presenter, best known for co-presenting the BBC children's programme Blue Peter from 2008 until 2013 and as a regular relief presenter on Countryfile since 2008. Since 2013, Helen has co-presented the factual BBC One programme Holiday Hit Squad alongside Angela Rippon and Joe Crowley. Helen has also presented two documentaries in conjunction with Comic Relief and Children In Need.

"A popular and charming Television Presenter"

In detail

Helen began her career in broadcasting working on Border ITV before spending time working on radio at CMF. Prior to joining Blue Peter, Helen anchored Newsround and presented live strands for its weekend programme, Sportsround. In early 2010 she decided to push herself further by kayaking 2,010 miles down the Amazon in support of Sport Relief, breaking two Guinness World Records along the way. In 2011, for her Comic Relief challenge Helen drew inspiration from "Man on Wire" and decided to train in the art of highwire walking. At the 2011 Children's BAFTAs Helen received her first nomination for Best Presenter.
