

Will Greenwood MBE

Former International Rugby Player

CSA CELEBRITY SPEAKERS

Will Greenwood is one of England's greatest ever rugby players. In a professional career that spanned 11 years and 55 international caps he established a reputation as an unsurpassed mid-field creator. The second highest international try scoring centre of all time.

"An Enthusiastic and incredibly popular pundit and player"

In detail

In the 2003 World Cup, Will was one of England's most consistent performers, scoring 5 tries along the way. Following his retirement in 2006, Will quickly built up a thriving career as a media personality with a seamless transition from World Cup winner to analyst and pundit. Throughout his 13 seasons at the top, Will was a dedicated professional combining a fantastic work ethic with a desire to continuously learn and improve his game. Despite significant injury setbacks and occasional moments of self-doubt and personal tragedy his focus, determination and perseverance led him to the top of the national and international game. Off pitch his focus has remained undimmed. With a reputation as a bright, articulate, and entertaining personality he has established himself as a hugely popular and respected presenter for Sky Sports.

What he offers you

His experiences both in the city and on the pitch have enabled audiences to get a fantastic insight to the synergy between top level sport and top-level business. In his presentations Will inspires audiences to achieve their objectives in a light-hearted and memorable way.

How he presents

Will's outstanding achievements both on and off the field have made him an ideal speaker choice for a wide range of corporate clients. His intelligence and easy delivery style mixed in with a generous helping of humour make him a sure fire hit as a keynote, host or after dinner speaker.
